Quality is the key for successful performance of speed and agility drills. Use these (5) pointers to optimize the training response:

1. Warm up thoroughly. Speed and agility drills may not leave you out of breath, but they do put considerable strain on your muscles.
2. Speed and agility drills should be performed either on separate days to other training or at the start of a training session after the warm up.
3. You will gain the most benefit from speed and agility drills if you have previously developed a solid strength and power base.
4. A typical session may consist of approximately 5 sets of 10 repetitions (each sprint being 1 repetition). Work to rest ratio should be 1:5, i.e. a 5 second sprint should be followed by a 25 second recovery period.
5. Speed and agility drills are suitable for most sports. To make them more specific, adapt them slightly to mirror the movement patterns in your game.

The Speed and Agility Training will include (10) one hour sessions. Sessions can be scheduled based on availability.

The Speed and Agility Training is only $100.00 for (10) hours of Intense Training. Space is limited, so contact CBS today.
